EDITORIAL

The festival season is upon us and I can report that Breda, in Holland, was again excellent, but wet, and very enjoyable. There were mainly Dutch and European bands there but the UK was represented by The Jive Aces and Max Collie's Rhythm Aces as well as the outstanding Colin Dawson, who thrilled the crowds with his exciting trumpet playing. My Japanese vibes player was not there this year – so we had better go back next year and see if he has been invited.

Upton upon Severn. This was cracking, the weather was hot and sunny, the music excellent and of the highest quality. Henry's Bootblack, (Henry Davies) this Classic Jazz Orchestra recreate the 1920's music of King Oliver, Fletcher Henderson, and Duke Ellington. Most of the Band are from the Bristol area with Ceri Williams, Steve Davis and Joe Farler, flying the Welsh Flag. They performed these, often very complicated, arrangements in a highly pleasing and professional manner, and were complimented on their performance by none other than Chris Barber, who mentioned them at his concert later that evening..

The Big Chris Barber Band, whom I have not heard before, excelled themselves and played to a capacity, or more, audience in the "Jazz City" Marquee. 76 year old Chris, still as enthusiastic as ever, has alongside him probably one of the best trombonist around, Bob Hunt, who does most of the band's arranging. Pat Halcox is still there after 51 years and the musical style altered. They can now play the Ellington numbers they used to play years ago with 11 musicians creating the excitement that was evoked in the 1920's and 30's.

Our other Welsh representation at Upton included Martin Butterworth with "Sir" Alan's Festival Band, who held his own against reed man James Evans. Gwyn Lewis with Roy Kirby's Paragan Band and Phil Wall's Jazz Cardinals who played on the MV "Conway Castle"

With reports that there will be no street music at Brecon this year and the exclusion of a few Welsh bands, we await with interest, how this festival will develop. The Adamant Marching Band are booked so we'll have to wait and see where we will march. The stroller programme is to be announced in July.

Festival News

A note from Carolyn Naylor re the Brockwier Festival Sunday 16th July

Featuring :- The Roger Marks Armada Jazz Band from Plymouth and Emile Martyn's Fallen Heroes from London - recommended to me by Gentleman Jim (Phil Mason's banjo player). Andrew and I went to London to see them - youngish and good value entertainment - 1960s New Orleans influence and lots of their own material. So if you are in the area pop along.

Starts 12 noon 'till 4 p.m. Food and Bar available or bring a picnic Tickets £7
